

Public Notice

The City of Seattle has issued a Preliminary Recommendation Report that evaluates the excess city property identified as:

Seattle Department of Transportation Excess Property, PMA 4183, located at 560 Roy Street

The Department of Finance and Administrative Services (FAS) recommends:

That the property is to be first evaluated by the Human Services Department (HSD) for potential development that includes a child care facility. If it is found that the property could support HSD programs, the recommendation is for the property to be sold to the selected developer through a negotiated sale. If HSD has not identified a developer for the property by June 30, 2015, the property should be sold at fair market value through an open and competitive process.
